Miami Anglers Club Planning to Build $1,000,000 Home

Many Private Yachts Have Arrived for Season and Villas Are Being Opened as Winter Colony Grows

Special Correspondence
MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 3.—Miami bids fair to no far distant period to become the winter sport and amusement center of the South. One indication to this end is the remarkable growth of the Miami Anglers' Club from forty members at the signing of the armistice to eight hundred on New Year's Day. Having outgrown its earlier quarters, the club is now established at the Hotel Uman, in the center of Miami. For anglers desiring a distant rendezvous, an imposing clubhouse is being erected at Bimini, Bahamas Islands, forty miles from Miami, which will eventually cost over $1,000,000. Other facilities include dock and twelve graceful and speedy fishing cruisers, also a 100-foot steel passenger yacht and a five and ten passenger airplane.

There are perhaps more millionaires among the Miami Anglers' Club membership than in any other similar organization in the South, but despite this fact a man's money bears no relation to his acceptance by the membership committee. Among the club's prominent members are Edward B. Bait, M. M. Belding, A. Garner Cooper, W. D. Crawford, William Farnum, John H. Hanan, Messmore Kendall, W. L. Kester, Joseph A. MacDonald, J. Edward Newburger, W. Harold Powers, John J. Slater, Carl L. Wolfe and S. M. Seymour, of New York; G. H. Seymour, of Montclair, and William Lunham, of Bronxville.

Record Lease Is Made

What is believed to be a record price for the rental of a Miami home for the season was established this week when William H. Liden, of Reading, Pa., leased the residence of Locke T. Highman, fronting Biscayne Bay, for $25,000 for three months. Mr. and Mrs. Liden will charter a special train for their trip South, and will bring twenty servants.

According to William Jennings Bryan, who arrived in Miami Monday before constitutional prohibition becomes effective is a myth. Mr. Bryan foresees a real fight within the Republican party over its Presidential candidate. He sees a dividing of the military strength between Generals Pershing and Wood, while a half dozen others are fighting for recognition. Replying to a query as to the Democratic standard bearer, the Congressman said: "It pains me when Democrats fall out, even about so unimportant a thing as an office." Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, their daughter, Mrs. Reginald Owen, and her children will live together at the Bryan estate, Villa Serena.

Yachtsmen are anchoring in Biscayne Bay in increasing numbers. Edward Seifert, of Nyack, arrived here Tuesday as the guest of J. M. Henderson, of Cleveland, aboard the yacht Yuma. James Brady, of New York, has had his cruising yacht Adventure precede him to Miami. Harold E. Talbot's Frou-Frou reached Miami early in the week from Clayton, N. Y.

Winter Cruise Planned
Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Binney, of Greenwich, Conn., are now at their Indian River estate, and their yacht Florida is being overhauled in Miami. They cruised South in a roundabout manner, going through the Erie Canal to the Great Lakes, down the Illinois

Sanford, of New York, is sojourning at the Abnerholm. Miss Marguerite Brigham has returned to Columbia University after spending the holidays with her family. Mrs. E. B. Parsons, of Montclair, is visiting Mrs. A. C. Castle for the winter. J. H. Burton, of Mount Vernon, is erecting a beautiful home at Miami Beach.

This week was marked by the opening of the Royal Palm, New Year's Day. This hostelry is again managed by Joseph P. Greaves, who conducts the Hotel Champlain during the summer. Among those who may be expected shortly at this house are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Lane Folger, Miss Enid Alden, Capt. and Mrs. James H. Lyman, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Raegner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Eaton and Miss Priscilla Mitchell.

The Hotel McAllister, a twelve-story hostelry recently completed, was opened Wednesday. The house overlooks the bay and is of concrete and stucco.

'City Beautiful' in Havana Is Backed By Cuban Leaders

John McE. Bowman Heads Company for Large New Hotel to Welcome Visitors from United States

Special Correspondence
HAVANA, Jan. 3.—Never before in Havana's history have so many visitors thronged the city during the holidays. To New Yorkers Havana is one vast pleasure resort. There is the famous Prado, the boulevard of wealth and fashion, which forms the connecting link between the city's principal parks. Most of the hotels are grouped about Central Park, where the Havana Municipal Band renders evening concerts. Music is also provided by the Cuban Army Staff Band at the Malecon, the city's noted boulevard.

A city-beautiful scheme was outlined at the weekly meeting of the Havana Rotary Club Wednesday. The plan calls for the elimination of trolley poles and for wires installed underground. Delegates were chosen to represent the club at the Eighth District Convention meeting shortly in Tampa.

Edwin W. Morgan, American Ambassador to Argentina, will leave this week for Buenos Ayres, after greeting many friends who know him as Minister to Cuba. He is at the Inglaterra.

A favorite resort for visitors during the holidays was the new Presidential Palace, the future home of Cuban chief magistrate. President and Mrs. Menocal will occupy the building in a few weeks. On certain afternoons the Cascade Orchestra, brought to Havana by the Hotel Sevilla management, has furnished music, while the curious fied through the many halls and corridors of the palace.

New Hotel Opened
The chief social event in the city New Year's Eve was the opening of the Sevilla Hotel. John McE. Bowman is interested in the new hostelry. Work is well under way upon the addition, which will extend from Zulueta Street to the Prado entrance. Herbert Stone, who supplied the Biltmore furnishings, has chosen light furniture of French design.

The Sevilla patio will be typical of those on the island, with its crystal fountain and greenery of palms, shrubs and ferns. Surrounding the patio are tables, and at one end is a soda fountain, an innovation in Havana. There are also capacious wine cellars, which will be lacking in United States hotels of the future.

Miss Mary Nevins has returned to New York after passing the holidays with friends in Havana. Miss Edith M. Hutchings, of Brooklyn, and Mrs. A. L. Lumbert, of New York, are in Havana for an extended sojourn.

Among arrivals of the week were Frank A. Cook, Oscar F. Swenson and Mrs. E. B. Collins, of New York; John G. McMurray, of Midland, N. J.; Wallis T. Daub, of Easton, Pa.; Leon E. Reed, of Ripley, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. James L. Humphries, of Philadelphia, and George F. Erick, of Brooklyn.

Return to the States
Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Ainsworth have left Nueva Guana, Isle of Pines, for a vacation with relatives in Geneva, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Clarke, of New York, and Theodore Swift, of Poughkeepsie, have returned to the States. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Pinkney, of Brooklyn, sailed for their home on Thursday.

The Inglaterra is entertaining Miss Rita A. Betancourt, Walter J. Sharpe, Linah A. Combs, Joseph Gell, James F. Gillespie, Thomas V. K. Swift, of New York, and Manuel Reveide, of New York.

At the Telegrafo are Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chambers, of Philadelphia; Peter Hunter, A. W. Golliffe and Dr. H. Noguchi, of New York.

Arrivals at the Lafayette include Captain A. M. Watson, Frank Ricart and Mrs. Catherine Carvalte, of New York.

Miss Marion Lee Bishop, director in Manhattan, said several hundred other girls are preparing to organize more troops, the membership of which averages twenty-four girls each.

Miss Bishop also said that 122 women enrolled as troop captains during the campaign are now undergoing a training course, which includes cooking, household arts, drill, signaling, sales, athletics, outdoor games, first aid treatment and the care of children and infants. Officials of the Masonic Guild, which includes practically all the Masonic bodies of Brooklyn, announced yesterday that the guild ball, the first since the United States went to war, would be held February 11, in the 23d Infantry Regiment Armory, Bedford Avenue and Pacific Street. It is expected to be the most brilliant of the long series of similar guild events.

Europe and the Battlefields

The course of the world's history met a right-angled turn on the battlefields of France and Belgium during 1914-1918. It fell to the lot of our generation to assist in that turn. It remains now our privilege to pay homage to those who fell and to see for ourselves the fields upon which the world's greatest battles were fought. The time to go is this Spring. The details of getting there and back loom up formidably, but Cook's Service will make smooth your path.
